This resulted in upsetting the buggy and throwing the ladies out. Fortunately they were not hurt beyond a severe shaking up and several bruises and a good fright. The buggy was only slightly damaged.

THE MOULDS SEIZED

By an United States Officer, who will Destroy them.

POPULAR GLASSWARE CONDEMNED

As a Technical Violation of the Revised Statutes forbidding the Making of Anything in Imitation of U. S. Money—The Costly Experience of the U. S. Glass Company.

A set of glass moulds belonging to the U. S. Glass Company and used at the Central works and another set used at the Hobbs factory were seized yesterday by a special officer of the United States government and will be destroyed today under his supervision.

Several months ago the Central Glass Company, before it was merged in the U. S. company, brought out a novel series of sets of glassware, the distinguishing feature being the ornamentation of all the pieces with representations of silver coins, from dollars down to dimes, according to the sizes of the pieces of ware. The dies were very faithful representations of the coins, and the imitations on the glass were etched white. The effect was very novel and pretty, and the ware became popular at once, and has had a large sale.

The moulds cost several thousand dollars. When the two Wheeling factories sold out to the United States factories the moulds for lamps with similar ornamentation were taken to the Hobbs factory, and the other ware continued to be manufactured at the Central.

On Tuesday a special agent of the treasury department, who was at Pittsburgh, received a telegram telling him to look into the question whether this ware did not come within the prohibition of the law which forbids the making of any design or representation in imitation of United States coin. The officer called at the company's office in Pittsburgh, and from there came down here and examined the ware and the moulds. He said the ware could do no harm, and was not in itself illegal, but the existence of the moulds could not be allowed under the law. He therefore took possession, and to-day the moulds will be destroyed under his superintendence. Possibly other designs will be substituted for the coin ornaments.

Manager Scott, of the Central factory, said last night that the company had about cleared enough to pay for the moulds. The only thing serious about the seizure was that it stopped the manufacture of a line of glass which was proving very profitable.

AN OUTRAGEOUS AFFAIR.

Attempted Assault on a Deaf and Dumb Woman in her Husband's Absence.

When Harry Marsh, a deaf and dumb printer in the INTELLIGENCER office, returned to his home early yesterday morning after his night's work, he found his wife, who is also deaf and dumb, in a terrible state of excitement. His wife told him that at half-past nine o'clock the night before, a man entered her apartments, over Porter's store, at the corner of Fifteenth and Jacob streets. Mrs. Marsh was writing a letter. The man started to ask her something and when she by motions told him she was deaf and dumb he wrote on a slip of paper, asking if she knew a certain person. Mrs. Marsh shook her head, and the fellow sat down. Becoming alarmed, Mrs. Marsh motioned him to go out, whereupon he sprang at her and attempted an indecent assault upon her.

The lady screamed, tore herself loose, and seizing a chair struck the man one or two blows. The fellow escaped just as the people living across the hall came to her assistance.

Mr. Marsh reported the matter to the police yesterday afternoon, and left a description of the scoundrel. Mrs. Marsh was so nervous and frightened that her husband took her last night to his brother's to stay over night.

Ceremonies of Memorial Day.

This unanimity of the G. A. R. in patronizing THE HUB is the result of an investigation as to the relative merits of the offerings of the various clothing houses of this city. Experts who have examined the goods and prices have rendered the verdict in favor of THE HUB, whose goods were found the best in the market, every suit being Strictly All-Wool, Fast Color and of precise G. A. R. Regulation, while the prices were positively 15 to 25 per cent lower than the same qualities are sold elsewhere. The various G. A. R. Posts, also S. of V. Camps, individually or collectively, will therefore find it to their interest to buy new uniforms, white vests, etc.

TO BUYERS OF BOYS' CLOTHING:

You all know what trouble and annoyance a poor-fitting and badly-made boys' suit gives you, and you no doubt have come to the belief that all ready-made goods are that way. Come and try us, you will not only get nice-fitting, well-made garments, but you will be surprised to see how low our prices are. We sell goods on their merits, not on their looks. We have everything that is stylish and good whether it is a child's $2 Suit or a boy's $12 one, you will get what is fashionable and fully worth the money. Of one thing you can be satisfied, and that is whatever you get from us will be less in price than the same character of goods can be bought for elsewhere.
